DAY 2: TARANGIRE NATIONAL PARK

After breakfast, we will drive to Tarangire. This vast park, with its baobabs, the perennial Tarangire River, and its seasonal swamps, is home to the largest elephant herds in northern Tanzania. The animals gather near the river, and you will see elephants, giraffes, bushbucks, hartebeests, dik-diks, waterbucks, warthogs, and reedbucks throughout the year. Additionally, the park is also home to buffaloes, zebras, and wildebeests, which are always closely followed by a range of predators such as lions. Leopards are occasionally spotted, but cheetahs are rarely seen. From the vehicle's pop-up roof, you can admire the landscape and observe the animals. Then, we will drive to the lodge in Mto wa Mbu, where you will have the opportunity to discover and learn the local traditional dance.

DAY 3: NGORONGORO CONSERVATION AREA AND CRATER

After an early breakfast, we will drive to the Ngorongoro Crater, as it is the best time to observe the animals. On this day, we will enjoy a safari around the crater and stop for a picnic lunch by a small lake inside the park. This lake is home to many hippos and migratory birds, so you are sure to enjoy the visit! Thanks to the animal "oasis" created in the crater, there is a high possibility of seeing each member of the Big Five. This group includes some of Africa's most powerful animals: the fierce lion, the large elephant, the stealthy leopard, the charging rhinoceros, and the mighty water buffalo. The Ngorongoro Crater is truly an amazing place. Did you know it formed over two million years ago? A large volcano erupted, causing the volcano to collapse but leaving a perfectly intact crater known as a caldera.

In this incredible crater, you can expect to see playful zebras, wading hippos, speedy wildebeests, and laughing hyenas. Additionally, there are graceful flamingos along the soda lake, while hungry hawks and vultures soar in the sky looking for their next meal from abandoned carcasses. Beautiful storks, ibises, and cranes are popular water birds in the crater, a sight not to be missed. After a delightful afternoon of animal watching, we will also visit a Maasai boma to learn more about the Maasai culture, seeing them dance and sing beautiful moral songs. You will also have the opportunity to practice some local activities with the Maasai families before returning to Karatu for accommodation.

We will also visit primary schools and kindergartens to see how education reaches the local people and spend a few minutes with the children.

Next, our journey will continue with a visit to Lake Manyara where we will meet the local fishermen during their fishing activities. If you wish, you will have the opportunity to cooperate with them, learn how they catch fish, and check their nets. We will also be able to observe many birds, such as storks, up close, as well as hippos. Later, we will visit a local mama for lunch and enjoy some delicious local food. This day will also include training in traditional activities such as traditional dance, Tinga Tinga painting, and traditional Tanzanian culinary recipes. It is a dormant volcano with very fertile soil on its slopes, and during the walk, you can see many beautiful flowers, plants, monkeys, and birds along the way. The caves were formed about 150 million years ago during the Jurassic period. They cover an area of 234 square kilometers. According to researchers, the region was underwater about 20 million years ago. It is believed that the caves originally extended over 200 km or more. In total, there are ten caves, but only one is used for guided tours. The Amboni Caves, home to a large number of bats, were traditionally considered the abode of various spirits and are still used for worship and rituals by the locals.
